GC SPRING 2019 UPSILON CHAPTER REPORT

Brothers,

On behalf of the Upsilon Chapter of St. Anthony Hall, I am happy to report our fraternity is thriving and our standing remains strong at the University of Virginia. This year, for the second year in a row, we welcome a pledge class of twenty new members into our brotherhood. Our rush efforts, headed by brother Nash Wiley '19, produced a diverse pledge class hailing from every corner of the United States; from California to Florida, from New York to Texas, and back to our home state of Virginia. This group includes two legacies, a former UVA football player, and a current UVA lacrosse player, Paul Rodriguez '22. While their introduction to the traditions of the Hall are just beginning, these twenty new members have already provided a new spirit and liveliness to our existing brotherhood. We could not be more excited about this class, and we look forward to their progression and ultimate initiation into the bonds of the St. Anthony Hall.

This newest addition gives our fraternity a total of 76 active members. In turn, every brother has found unique, but different ways to contribute to the Hall, the University, and the greater Charlottesville area. This winter, we had multiple brothers attend the Grand Council meeting at Trinity College, where they emphasized the importance of Upsilon continuing to set an example for others while stressing the importance of reaching out to different Hall chapters for advice and support. At the University, the Hall continues to be involved in the larger community. Brother Matt Nightingale '20 is currently serving as the Faculty and Alumni Chair for the Inter-Fraternity Council. The Hall now has a long history of involvement with the IFC, which allows us to foster a positive relationship with the Dean of Fraternity and Sorority life, Hal Turner, as well as the larger Greek community. Additionally, brother Jefferson Dockter '21 currently plays on the UVA tennis team and brother Lester Coleman '19 was the starting punter for the UVA football team this fall. Lester helped lead UVA to its first Bowl victory since 2005, defeating South Carolina 28-0.

In terms of philanthropy and community service, the Hall continues to be a leader in the Greek community.

This fall, Brother Louis Brown '19 helped lead the annual 'Movember' Foundation fundraiser, which successfully raised $11,000 for research and awareness of men's health. Additionally, the Hall hosted a community-wide fundraiser for the 'Kids with Cancer' organization, headed by our philanthropy chairs, brothers Cole Green '20, Justin Tennery '20, and Jack Sell '19. Finally, the brothers of the Hall continue to be involved in the Madison House program, a community service organization on Grounds, which provides volunteer opportunities in the greater Charlottesville area.

Additionally, this year has been marked by generous donations from alumni for the purposes of large scale improvements to the Hall. Since the summer of 2018, we have successfully raised over $10,000 for the installment of a new bar area and moose head, in addition to new robes for every brother and general improvements to the basement and living areas. My personal thanks to Peter Paige, Chris Wamsley, Lyons Brown, Austin Holbrook, and Ned Parrish for their continued support. Our alumni association and network have undoubtedly remained committed to the Hall and its future success. We hope to continue to foster this positive relationship with our alumni with 'homecoming' events in the fall and spring.

Ultimately, St. Anthony Hall continues to provide our brothers with a home and family at the University of Virginia. Our house and chapter room offer a space for every brother to be themselves, indulge in the rituals the Hall, and to share their story, which is reflected in the breadth of literary duties this year. There is a certain energy that exists within the walls of 133 Chancellor Street that can only be understood by those who have experienced it. This energy manifests as the bonds of brotherhood, which span across time and space. These bonds never fade and they never falter. As my pledge class looks towards our graduation this May, we know it is not the end. The Hall, as it always has, lives on. If any of you are ever in Charlottesville, please don't hesitate to reach out and join us for a brother's night. You are always welcome at 133.

YITB,
George Brown Y'16
